

Adv. Limor Shmerling Magazanik (CIPP/E, CIPP/US, CIPM) is Managing Director of the Israel Tech Policy Institute. A think tank for tech policy leadership and policy, advancing ethical practices in support of emerging technologies.

Previously she served as Director of Strategic Alliances and Director of Inspection and Licensing at the Israeli Privacy Protection Authority, focusing on protecting the fundamental human right to privacy by regulation and enforcement in technology driven sectors.

Limor is adjunct lecturer at the Hebrew University Jerusalem and at the IDC Herzliya, and holds an L.L.B. and L.L.M in Law, and an M.A in Literature, from Tel-Aviv University.

Her background includes positions in the private sector, in law firms and the high-tech industry.