

Orly Friedman Marton, Microsoft Israel

Since 2007, Orly serves as the Head of Legal and Corporate Affairs at Microsoft Israel, where she is also part of the leadership team. In her role, Orly is responsible for managing all legal as well as regulatory, compliance and public policy aspects. In addition, she leads the company's corporate responsibility program, built on national level tri-sector partnerships, focusing on Coding, Computer Science and next generation skills, Employment, Internet Safety, NGO capacity and more. Prior to joining Microsoft, Orly worked as a lawyer in private law firms and before that as a research assistant in law. Orly applies her knowledge and expertise to her local community where she participates as a member in two national committees, a board member of an NGO and a mentor in a mentoring in the community program. Orly holds a Master of Laws (LLM) and a Bachelor of Laws (LLB) degrees, both from Tel-Aviv University and She is a graduate of MAOZ Leadership program including Harvard Business School MAOZ fellowship program.