

Rachel Zeliger is an LLD candidate at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem. She holds a BA (Honours) in Psychology from York University in Toronto, Canada, a JD from Osgoode Hall Law School at York

University, and an LLM in International Law and Human Rights from The Hebrew University of Jerusalem. Prior to commencing her LLM, Rachel completed her articles at a prominent Canadian law firm and was called to the Bar of Ontario, Canada in 2011. She has worked and/or volunteered with various not-for-profit organizations, including a legal aid clinic, a labour rights organization, an educational rights program, and an organization dedicated to the prevention of problem gambling. Rachel's LLD research primarily aims to examine cross-border NGO funding within the context of a globalised world, focusing on state-imposed restrictions on the inflow of cross-border NGO funding in certain states and factors that may present as an impetus for such restrictions. Her research interests also include the organization and operation of associations in online forums, as well as their regulation and security.
