

Yaron Sella is a senior security architect at Cisco. During his years at NDS (before it was purchased by Cisco), Yaron worked on various aspects of the security of NDS's PayTV and DRM systems. His main interests are cryptographic protocols, security architecture, network security and security of embedded systems. In the past 7 years, he became involved in Cisco's connected vehicles cyber security initiative. Yaron has a BSc and MSc in CS from the Technion (Haifa, Israel), and a PhD in CS from the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.